“ Arlene was almost my sister-in-law. She was a faithful woman who was even willing to forego all amenities of a typical ceremony, even the willingness to don an isolation gown for a wedding dress. She was generous. She was kind to the point of even sacrificing her own comfort and sanity if someone else needed it even more. She truly loved her family and stuck by them. Arlene was a hard worker. And she had compassion for people. She missed dearly her customers when Arlene's Laundry on Rt. 83 in Crosslake had to close a few years back. She valiantly tried to save it in Ed's honor. Her hard work and honesty couldn't save it but she displayed incredible integrity in the effort. In the world's eyes she was not successful. In God's eyes, she was.
