“ I know I’m kinda late, but just found out about Kellys death. I want to send my condolences to her family, as I was married to the late Greg Meindl who he and his family grew up next door to her and her family. I met her when I started dating Greg, and she was always very sweet. Gregs mom and her mom Franny (as we called her) were friends as Gregs younger brother Joel and her younger brother Cameron. Kelly and her mom sang at our wedding during the ceremony and were fabulous! Kelly showed up to Gregs memorial which I was very surprised and grateful. I’m so sorry to hear she left us so soon, as we chatted for a bit and it was great to see her again. God Bless..

“ Kelly was a joy to work with. During Covid she was in charge of making sure everyone in the office was doing well. I always enjoyed talking to her when she would check in on me. We had some really good conversations. She always had a smile on her face and a friendly hello when I would see her in the building. She will be missed.

“ I'm hesitant to post another memory of Kelly that's work-related as we're all so much more than the work we do, but the fact of the matter is that's how I knew Kelly...and the memory of her that I (and many others here at Follett) have is above & beyond the job Kelly was paid to do.

Kelly led our company's First Aid Team for more years than I can remember. It's an unofficial role, but you'd never have known that judging by Kelly's care, concern, and dedication. And as a company with more than 600 team members on site, it's not uncommon that personal medical issues arise from time to time...and whenever they did, there was Kelly with her team, caring for their co-worker and, when necessary, calming them as they awaited the arrival of our local paramedics.

Happily, we're situated only a little over a mile from the hospital and McHenry's EMTs are always quick to respond when needed, but the immediate care and concern that Kelly and her team provided was always their co-worker's crucial first step to recovery.

Kelly will be missed...but she mattered very, very much while she was with us and I can think of no higher praise.

“ I was blessed and honored to know Kelly for a short 20 years. She welcomed me into her life when I was a transplant to the area, whether it was at the Hebron FD pig roast or a bonfire at her place, and more recently, street dances for Hebron and its great library. She allowed glimpses into her well lived life, sharing stories of her and her mom setting off alarms at the store, spilling homemade barbecue sauce in her car, going round and round in a parking garage with her girls, the joys (or "joys") of planning a vacation with her Bob--as well as the vacation itself, the joy she had on her face talking about Belize or anything historic for that matter, her joy and purpose with organizing the library, the pride she showed for her brother, and the love she has for Wayne and Shawn. As much as she claimed to be "mean, rotten, and awful", we all know that was far from the truth. She was straightforward and didn't put up with nonsense. There wasn't enough time to do all the things, so b.s. had no room in her life.

She took nearly all aspects of her life and made sure there were no boundaries with her knowledge, love, sense of adventure, and compassion. Everyone can see how her life overlapped in so many areas. Kelly did so much for family, friends, and herself. Her life and how she lived embodied what most of us only dream of. She hit her stride early and did her best to never forget how to live when other things in life happened/got in the way.

Follett was where I knew Kelly best. She worked hard. She appreciated and welcomed challenges and learning. Even when there were hard times at work and many questioned why we work so hard, she couldn't find it within her to not work hard. I'm thankful she knew how to play hard too, because work is not everything in life. She made sure work was fun: helping to plan group gatherings, making sure we're all safe, and the biggest remembrance I can think of to honor her at work for fun is to celebrate international talk like a pirate day on September 19th. Arrr

I will miss her flamingo lawn posts--her humor is unmatched. I will miss her face and finger hugs, her laughter and the full body excitement she got when she shared her life's passions, seeing her eyes light up when she saw the people she cared about. In all the different ways she expressed herself to all of us, Kelly will live on.
