“ Ill never forget you Nick no matter what. ill always cherish the memories we had together. ill always remember always making you laugh every time i was over. Playing a sorta peek a boo game with you. I would look at you suddenly and you look away just laughing with a bright smile. i would do this numerous times and you would always laugh with excitement. I will never forget the high fives you gave me when i would stick my hand out. I will never forget that you loved swimming and you loved the song (Staying Alive) by The Bee Gees. I love that song as well. Most importantly, Ill always remember you as the angel you were. You always had a smile every time i saw you and just had that passion of loving life that rubbed off on me and it really showed how good a person you really were. It's a tragedy to see you go but i know your doing great wherever you are and showing your love and passion. There is no end to how much everyone loves you and how much everyone misses you.

“ Extending heartfelt condolences for your loss. Cherish loving memories of laughter and times spent together that are now something to be treasured. Proverbs 17:22 says "a joyful heart is good medicine", therefore, may those memories bring you joy and warm your heart. While I cannot begin to comprehend the sorrow and grief you are experiencing, as a mother, I do know there is no greater pain than that of a parent losing a child, or a family losing someone so young. May you receive empathy, comfort and support from family and friends now, and as long as it is needed. Another source of comfort is our loving Heavenly Father who is available 24 hours a day 7 days a week, and is only a prayer away. Psalm 65:2 calls God the "Hearer of prayer", and Psalm 145:18 says he "is near to all those calling on him". God has promised at Revelation 21:4 that soon "death will be no more". 1 John 4:8 says "God IS love". It is that love that moved Him to send his only begotten son as a ransom sacrifice so we could have the hope of the resurrection, and that hope is found at Acts 24:15. May Jehovah, the Father of tender mercies and God of all comfort, who comforts us in all our trials (2 Corinthians 1:3,4), comfort you in your time of need. (tallchea@att.net)

“ It's been almost three weeks since we lost you, Nick, and I'm still having a hard time putting my thoughts and feelings into words. I miss you every day and memories keep popping to the surface. I remember finding out I was going to be a big sister (times two) and feeling you move in Mom's tummy. I remember the day you were born, watching you get your first bath and holding you. I remember diaper changes and gate climbing and watching you play outside. I remember the time you flushed my necklace down the toilet and the time you snipped a chunk of my hair from the side of my head . I remember taking you and Johnathan for rides in my car and the sharp curve that even at only 20 mph, made you giggle. I missed some time with you when I went to college but I'm grateful for the time we spent together when I moved back home. Our time working together at Easter Seals and taking walks there holds a special place in my memory. I miss your smile and your laugh and playing the looking game. And perhaps most of all I miss having you spend time with me and my boys. You loved my boys and they loved you right back. You were so sweet with them. We miss you, big guy, and love you always.

Your big sister,
Melany

“ Nick, I'm gonna really miss you a lot. I feel as though a connection had vanish, the connection that only twins share. Sure, things did get rough for our family at times. We had our ups and downs but in the end, you were my dearly beloved brother and I'm going to miss you immensely.

I do question myself if I could of been a brother or if I could of done this or that for you. However, I know it's not going to change anything and I truly believe that you had a wonderful live despite any hardships. You'll always will be part of my memories and will live on because of that. I wish you didn't have to go so early in your life but I know you're doing great wherever you are. I love you and always will.

“ Oh Nick-- we had MANY wonderful memories together. You hearty laugh and smile won me over. My favorite time was making snow cones with you. It was such a joy to see your face light up as you got to turn ice cubes into this sweet and delightful frozen treat! My life is richer because you were a part of it. Thanks for the memories!

“ Every summer when I would come visit Nick would spend hours in the pool he loved the water and he swam like a fish. I think he was happiest in the water, he smiled and swam with the grace of the dolphin. I love you Nick, forever and always, Aunty Cathy. Xoxoxo...
